Homefront News

Providing comfort, support, and hope to cancer patients and their families

ANNUAL REPORT ISSUE 2005

LETTER FROM THE PRESIDENT

Dear Friends,

2005 was another exciting and productive year for The Cam Neely Foundation for Cancer Care.

We unveiled two major projects this year – our $5 million pledge to establish The Michael Neely Center for Brain Tumor Care and Research at Tufts-New England Medical Center and the redesign and renovation of The Neely Pediatric Bone Marrow Transplant Center at The Floating Hospital for Children. The Michael Neely Center, named in memory our father who we lost to a brain tumor, is especially important to me and my siblings. The commitment, announced last fall, deepens our solid and growing relationship with the hospital.

As a parent of two young children, I am extremely proud to be a part of The Neely Pediatric Bone Marrow Transplant Center. The Center's design mimics the Neely House model, providing a home-away-from-home for parents of children undergoing their rigorous cancer treatment. This Center will allow families to be close to their children in a warm, comfortable home-like atmosphere right on the patient floor.

The Neely House, our Foundation's initial endeavor, continues to be a source of strength and support – welcoming 368 arrivals in 2005. More than 3,500 families have stayed at The Neely House since it opened its doors in 1997. Newer Foundation initiatives, such as The Neely Center for Clinical Cancer Research and The Neely Cell Therapy and Collection Center, add additional comfort.

Lastly, in an effort to provide you with comprehensive information and data, we have adopted a new Annual Report format. We hope you enjoy reading it.

Thanks to your amazing generosity the Foundation will continue to touch the lives of cancer patients and their families. We appreciate your interest, your time and your commitment.

Sincerely,

Cam Neely
President

Boston Bruins Foundation Supports New Initiative

Many thanks to The Boston Bruins Foundation for its recent contribution to one of the latest initiatives of The Cam Neely Foundation for Cancer Care — The Neely Pediatric Bone Marrow Transplant Center at The Floating Hospital for Children. With the Bruins' $100,000 commitment, one patient room at the Center will be designed using the team's signature colors of black and gold, and, in collaboration with the franchise, decorated with Bruins memorabilia.

Young cancer patients will experience a great emotional lift and enormous pride receiving their transplant care in a room uniquely inspired by the Bruins. The sports theme will continue throughout the Center and will include a "Goal Doorway" that transplant "graduates" will walk through when heading home.

The Bruins' pledge was supported by the 16th Annual Boston Bruins Wives' Charity Carnival which was held Sunday, January 8, 2006 at the TD Banknorth Garden. The carnival was a day of fun, filled with interactive events including locker room tours, autograph sessions and a chance to play with the Bruins.

NEELY PEDIATRIC BONE MARROW TRANSPLANT CENTER

Imagine you are unable to be close to your child around-the-clock as he or she courageously battles a devastating disease. Soon, comfortable, home-like accommodations will be available for parents of patients for The Floating Hospital for Children's Cancer Center to help ease their stress and return some normalcy to their lives.

On October 25, 2005, a wall-breaking ceremony launched The Neely Pediatric Bone Marrow Transplant Center, a multi-million dollar initiative taken on by The Cam Neely Foundation for Cancer Care. The Center, located at The Floating Hospital at Tufts-New England Medical Center, will provide pediatric cancer patients and their families the comfort and privacy of home.

Bone marrow transplantation is one of the most intense and potentially risky medical procedures that a child with cancer will experience. For a young patient undergoing a bone marrow transplant, it is likely to be his or her final chance for a cure. Adding to the intensity of the procedure itself, a bone marrow transplant can be a very lonely and physically and emotionally painful experience for the child. Due to the suppression of his or her immune system, the patient needs to be isolated from the germs that others, including caregivers and family members, may bring into the transplant unit. In traditional bone marrow transplant units, a patient's contact with others must be kept to a minimum; even a parent must put on protective clothing before seeing his or her child.

The Neely Pediatric Bone Marrow Transplant Unit at the Floating Hospital for Children will be the first pediatric bone marrow transplant unit in Boston that breaks down these barriers to human contact, contact that children undergoing a bone marrow transplant so desperately need. Through the design of an environment that is germ-free (via a complex air filtration system), the new unit will allow young patients and their families to live together during transplant in a setting that is both home-like and medically state-of-the-art. Modeled after The Neely House, this transplant "home-away-from-home" will include a family house right within the unit where parents can live throughout the entire transplant experience in private apartments with kitchens and laundry facilities. If a parent needs to sleep right in their child's room, there will be a comfortable pull-down bed to accommodate them.

"The whole unit is designed to have the child feel as normal as possible throughout the entire experience. It's going to be as if you're in your own bedroom at home sick, where your parents are just one room away," says Dr. Lawrence Wolfe, the Floating's Chief of Pediatric Hematology/Oncology.

The total fundraising commitment for this project is $3.75 million, which includes both The Neely Pediatric Bone Marrow Transplant Center and the related renovation of the new Pediatric Hematology and Oncology Clinic. The $1.75 million raised to date will fund the Center's construction, slated for completion by May 2006.

THE MICHAEL NEELY CENTER FOR BRAIN TUMOR CARE AND RESEARCH

With its $5 million commitment to establish The Michael Neely Center for Brain Tumor Care and Research, The Cam Neely Foundation for Cancer Care made history at Tufts-New England Medical Center (Tufts-NEMC) last fall. The Foundation's pledge equals the largest single philanthropic commitment in the hospital's 200-year existence. The donation will support the expansion of Tufts-NEMC's Neurosurgery Department and the creation of its Neurosciences Institute. The Center honors Michael Neely, father of Cam and Scott Neely and their sisters Shaun and Christine. Mr. Neely valiantly lost his battle with brain cancer in 1993.

An initial $1 million has been made available immediately to Tufts-New England Medical Center's Department of Neurosurgery to start the expansion. This first installment will fund renovations to patient care areas that are already underway and help purchase state-of-the-art neurosurgical equipment to support the hospital's rapidly-growing program. The update will allow medical personnel to care for patients in a comfortable and private setting that features the most current diagnostic and treatment technology. Patient volume has already exceeded expectations since the Tufts-NEMC neurosurgical team doubled its size in July 2005, with a record number of individuals and their families turning to this talented group for care, consult, and surgical intervention.

With your support, the entire pledge will be completed over the next four years.

The Boston Globe

SUNDAY, OCTOBER 23, 2005

Excerpts from a recent article about sports-related foundations written by Bob Hohler featured The Cam Neely Foundation for Cancer Care.

.... and the best foundations have made a lasting impact. They include the Cam Neely Foundation, which has raised nearly $14 million to improve the lives of families affected by cancer....

... the gauge by which charities are measured is the percentage of spending that goes toward their charitable cause. Industry watchdogs suggest 65% for charitable spending and 35% for administrative costs. The Cam Neely Foundation for Cancer Care spent 91% of 2004 funds ($1.8 million) raised to their charitable programs....

On October 23, 2005, The Boston Globe published the first of a two-day article entitled "Charity and Sports" featuring the impact of professional athletes on local Boston charities. The Cam Neely Foundation for Cancer Care received high praise for its dedication and delivery on its promise to provide comfort and care to cancer patients and their families while using resources efficiently and effectively.

EVENT HIGHLIGHTS

Comics Come Home XI

Some of Boston's funniest comedians teamed up for the 11th annual Comics Come Home comedy show on November 12, 2005. After 10 successful years at the Orpheum Theatre, host Denis Leary and his crew rolled the country's longest-running comedy benefit into the Agganis Arena at Boston University. The new venue offered the comics the opportunity to generate more laughter and enabled the Foundation to raise more money.

With the house filled to capacity, the show collected nearly $500,000 for The Cam Neely Foundation for Cancer Care. Along with Leary, headliners Lenny Clarke, Colin Quinn, Bill Burr, Adam Ferrara, Jim Lauletta, Patrice O'Neal, Brian Regan, Ken Rogerson, Steve Sweeney and Dane Cook also performed.

Monte Carlo Night

The fourth annual Betting on a Cause and a Cure sponsored by Harrab's was no gamble!

Hosted by Cam Neely and friends Michael J. Fox and Denis Leary, this black-tie Monte Carlo Weekend Extravaganza kicked off with a cocktail reception, followed by a fabulous dinner, gaming with celebrity dealers, a live auction, prizes - including a 2006 Dodge Charger provided by Sullivan Brothers Auto Mall - and a performance by singer/songwriter Gavin DeGraw at midnight. The event, held Saturday, January 28 at The Charles Hotel, raised money for The Cam Neely Foundation for Cancer Care. The Leary Firefighters Foundation and The Michael J. Fox Foundation for Parkinson's Research.

Betting on a Cause and a Cure was named Boston's best party of 2005 in the January 1 edition of The Boston Herald. In an article titled "10 fab fetes make year to remember," Herald society editor Dana Bisbee writes, "Betting on a Cause and a Cure was a rare night of glitz in the dead of winter, and is 2005's Party of the Year." Marlene and Michael Neely – The Foundation's Inspiration and Motivation

The Neely family – brothers Cam and Scott and sisters Shaun and Christine – are all too familiar with the heartbreak of cancer. In a span of six months in 1986, the siblings learned both of their parents were diagnosed with two different types of the disease. Within six short years, Mr. and Mrs. Neely lost their battles. In December 1987, their mother Marlene Neely passed away due to colon cancer at the age of 47. Their father Michael Neely lost his battle with a brain cancer in November 1993. He was only 56 years old.

Having experienced unwelcoming hospital environments during their parents' illnesses, the Neelys set out to improve the atmosphere for both cancer patients and their families. The focus was to help alleviate the tremendous stress of those affected by cancer.

Mr. and Mrs. Neely's legacy lives on through the work of The Cam Neely Foundation for Cancer Care. A photo of Michael and Marlene Neely proudly hangs in the Foundation office and at The Neely House to acknowledge the Foundation's inspiration and motivation.

The Neelys will further immortalize their father's memory with The Michael Neely Center for Brain Tumor Care and Research, part of a five-year, $5 million commitment to expand the Tufts-New England Medical Center's Department of Neurosurgery.

Each year, on the first Wednesday in December, CIBC World Markets and CIBC Wood Gundy sales and trading staff donate their fees and commissions to children's charities throughout the world. The Cam Neely Foundation for Cancer Care has been involved in the leading North American financial institution's campaign for five years and has received more than $540,000. The funds have been designated to The Neely Pediatric Bone Marrow Transplant Center.

LETTER FROM THE EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Dear Friends,

Thank you for your ongoing support and interest in our foundation. This annual report details our many successes during 2005 and the years leading up to it.

We have important goals for the future and continue to count on your support and interest so we can make tangible improvements for cancer patients and their families. Our signature events continue to flourish and are a key source of revenue and awareness for our cause. We are making great strides in increasing our other revenue streams – diversifying our support continues to be a key goal of the Foundation over the next five years. The funds raised will be invested carefully and thoughtfully into our initiatives that will have immediate and tangible impact on patients and their families.

We are honored to be partners with Tufts-New England Medical Center and its Floating Hospital for Children as they continue to grow their specialty departments including the Department of Neurosurgery and The Cancer Center. These important services help to treat patients in need with compassion and expertise in a manner that is consistent with our mission. Our work with The Floating Hospital for Children will take a big step this year with the renovations to The Neely Pediatric Bone Marrow Transplant Center.

Our Foundation continues to be recognized for efforts to maximize the application of precious donations toward the actual projects undertaken. Our expenses remain low and our commitment to best deploy funds continues.

The pages that follow detail the many donors, supporters and friends of The Cam Neely Foundation for Cancer Care.

Thank you for all you do to help us succeed and realize our mission.

Sincerely,

Scott Neely
Executive Director
